

THE EASTENDER

THIS WEEK

Martin Saurma-Jeltsch is preaching today.

On Friday we have two classes, one for the Singles run by Ian Mohlie, the London Campus Minister, and the other for the Marrieds by Tony & Margrethe Cameron.

The Teaching Ministry would like to thank everyone who responded to our recent survey for your time and effort in contributing. Both the Teaching Ministry and the East Leadership group have discussed the outcomes of the survey and will take the responses into account when planning teaching for next year's calendar. To summarise the results very briefly: there was a fair amount of diversity in the responses, and while some individual needs are clear, there were no teaching requests common to the majority (or even a large minority) of respondents. This is not surprising, as the questions we asked were quite open-ended. For example, regarding teaching topics a very wide range of subjects was suggested, ranging from day-to-day issues such as work and finances, to spiritual issues such as obedience and holiness, and then to subjects such as archaeology and apologetics. We hope to be able to address many of these topics some time in the future, but in the meantime we are happy for you to approach us with questions at any time (Simon, Tuka, Tony, Ugo, Clare, Barry, Andy). We would like to thank everyone again for their contributions, and if you would like an anonymised summary of the survey responses, please mail Simon at EastTeachingMinistry@gmail.com

[Mike is preaching in the Riverside, Andy in the North, and Barry and Nancy are taking a family holiday after the PreTeen Camp]
